Measuring and Monitoring Biological Diversity

Standard Methods for Mammals
Edited by Don E. Wilson, F. Russell Cole, James D. Nichols, Rasanayagam Rudran, and Mercedes S. Foster

In this manual, more than fifty scientists provide standardized methods for biodiversity sampling procedures for measuring and monitoring populations of any mammal group, from rodents to open-country grazers. Beginning with brief natural histories of the twenty-six orders of living mammals, the book describes in successive chapters the field techniques appropriate to different species.
